Calendar Showcase 2026

Why a calendar?

Your clients are the lifeblood of your business; ensuring healthy client relationships is a continual challenge. Giving a calendar is a universal means of extending a hand of friendship and respect. The calendar not only enriches business relationships by making a personal connection with clients, but also offers an excellent opportunity for branding, getting your company name exactly where you want it all day, every day!

Calendars are still relevant in the digital age.

The popularity of calendars continues to endure despite the increasing use of technology. Your calendar might be the most old-fashioned timekeeping device that you use, but its ubiquity within the office is proving to be remarkably impervious to the digital age. Smartphones come equipped with personal planners and online calendars are available to all. But wander through any business office and it quickly becomes apparent that the traditional version remains a convenient and essential planning aid.

The art of calendar gifting.

The art of successful calendar gifting lies in selecting an item that appeals to the modern business person and simultaneously offers functionality; an item that increases brand awareness while making a positive statement about your company. Calendars are indispensable business tools. They are the means by which we structure our daily work. When you give a client a branded calendar your name is associated with the tools that drive business forward.

Why choose Associated Group calendars?

The range we offer always incorporates breathtaking photography, impeccable quality and stylish finishes that never fail to impress.

The proven high quality of our calendars enhances the functionality of your gift with sophistication.

We are encouraged to try and make efforts to sustain our precious planet.

The UV varnish intensifies the meaningfulness.

The Big Five - M80E

Calendar Size: 440mm (h) x 580mm (w)

The Big 5, once a phrase associated with game hunting, now celebrates wildlife photography on safaris, emphasizing conservation.

Lions, the only truly social big cats, the critically endangered White Rhinoceros, the African Buffalo embodying power and resilience, an African Elephant, the largest land animal, yet moving silently and gracefully and the Leopard, elusive and solitary, hunting at night, hauling prey thrice its weight into trees for safety. The black and white photos with a splash of colour amaze us even more Coated with a UV varnish it amplifies each image's magnificence.

This calendar is also available in a 7 pg budget version - M41E (See page 9).

7 Page Photographic

Supercars refer to high-performance sports cars. The visual impact of the calendar images and aesthetic appeal are further enhanced by the use of metallic pantones, which produce the metallic gleam; fine metal particles within the ink create dazzling, shifting hues, emphasizing their sculpted, high-speed forms.
